Therapeutical Options – State of the Art: Your Patient is our Passion

Dear Sir or Madam,

The subject of lymphology covers a large interdisciplinary and interprofessional field, from early detection to diagnostics and therapy. In the course of our event, we would like to look at these areas from a different perspective.

We have planned a knowledge exchange on lymphological issues for you. As part of our Symposium we will focus on causes of primary and secondary lymphoedema. The topics of diagnostic, imaging as well as optimal therapy and management of lip- and lymphoedema will be covered. In the course of the event best practice and cases will be discussed.

Our aim is to build bridges on several different levels: between scientific evidence and experience, between health care providers from different disciplines and between people from different countries.

The programme is targeted towards MDs, therapists, specialised nurses and compression specialists working in the field of the chronic condition lip- and lymphoedema.

You can expect top-class presentations and practical demonstrations with a focus on medicine, therapy and ideal treatments. There will also be a plenty of time for individual questions and discussions.

Let us use this platform to openly exchange ideas, update standards and gain insights into the latest scientific and therapeutic findings as well as build up personal connections that might be helpful in your future work – with the focus on the optimal treatment for our patients.

We look forward to welcoming you to the 5th International Lymphoedema Symposium.

Sincerely yours,

Jürgen Gold
